BEECHING'S LEGACY

Discover the complete story of the reshaping of Britain's railways and the effect of 'Beeching's Axe' with this series of four DVDs.

BEFORE BEECHING

To start our journey, we follow the path of Britain's railways from the pre-Grouping of the Edwardian era when steam was king, through to Beeching's appointment as Chairman in 1961. During that time two World Wars had drastically changed Britain and its railways had moved from a Golden Age to an industry experiencing heavy annual losses.

Duration: 52 minutes Price: DVD £12.99 Code: UT014

BEECHING'S AXE

Picking up the story in 1961, the second part of this series follows the chain of events after Beeching was appointed as the first Chairman of the British Railways Board. His task was to draw up a plan to eliminate the network's losses and to reorganise the railways for the future. It was a job that would secure his place in British Railway history.

Duration: 52 minutes Price: DVD £12.99 Code: UT015

THE BEECHING RAILWAY

In March 1963 Beeching's proposals popularly known as the Beeching Axe were, unsurprisingly, accepted in full by the Minister of Transport Ernest Marples. Over the following years Beeching's cuts were gradually introduced and by the early 1970s Britain's railways and passengers were seeing the benefits of his actions as The Age of the Train was ushered in.

Duration: 52 minutes Price: DVD £12.99 Code: UT016

BEECHING'S LEGACY

The final part concludes with the often-painful experience of travelling on today's railways. With a myriad of operators taking rail travel into a future with a seemingly never-ending growth in traffic, it proves that Britain's railway network has a vital part to play in the transport industry of the future, just as it did over 60 years ago: truly, 'Beeching's Legacy'.

The Little Train of the High Somme

Froissy, Cappy, Dompierre

Our film looks at the History, the locomotives and the route of the P'tit Train de la Haute Somme. The railway was first built to supply allied troops during the First World War, running along the Somme Canal. After the war it was used for the reconstruction of the devastated area. During the 1920s the Sugar Refinery at nearby Dompierre extended the line to ship sugar via barges on the Somme Canal.

Santa Fe in California

History - Steam to Diesel Transition - Connecting Shortlines

The Santa Fe was born out of the desire to break the monopoly that the CP and UP had on transcontinental traffic. Once the line was pushed through to Richmond, the Santa Fe had a clear board to break this. The rare 16mm archival films, scanned at 2k, from the Western Railway Museum, document the time period when first generation diesel locomotives were replacing the huge steam locomotives on the Santa Fe Railroad in California. Footage of Cajon Pass and Mission Tower plus the massive Mallet #3001, 2-10-10-2 are seen.

Inland Railway Sweden

Back in 2003, as part of the ROCO "Iron Ore Tour," the cab-side ride on the Swedish Inland Railway—or "Inlandsbanan," as it's known in Swedish—was created. A train journey from Gällivari to Kristinehamn. 1,100 kilometers through the heart of Sweden—through endless forests, past hundreds of romantic lakes and many abandoned train stations. The sun lingers on the horizon. A cab-side ride with a difference. Seven DVDs with a total running time of 11 hours and 35 minutes. Plus a BONUS DVD with the most beautiful views to both sides of the line.

Bosnian Steam Locomotive Adventure

This documentary is a very special journey through time: In northern Bosnia, the coal mining railways still use steam every day. In addition, there are exciting steam excursions on the main lines. The locomotives are relics of an era that reached its peak many decades ago. Rolling stock and tracks require constant repair work to ensure smooth operations. It is awe-inspiring how these massive giants are kept running under such conditions.

BIG FREIGHT 32

Produced in association with
FREIGHTMASTER
THE NATIONAL RAILFREIGHT TIMETABLE

Big Freight 32 travels countrywide hunting down the best of the UK Railfreight. Filmed and presented in the longstanding style, you won't see the cameraman's face or have him talking gibberish as the trains pass! This is proper filmmaking; proper old-school - maps, professional camerawork and informative narration - but most of all, we stick to the tried and trusted formula... big locos, big wagons, big flows... nothing but Big Freight!

This edition includes:

S & C Freight: The old Midland route from Carlisle to Settle and onto Hellfield is well known as one of Britain's most scenic railway lines but it also has a number of freight terminals and flows, with a branch to a new railroad at Horton under construction. As of spring 2025, there were regular trains to Arcow Quarry and the virtual quarry at Ribbleshead - usually Class 60 hauled - with Freightliner now working to the Gypsum plant at New Biggin. Cement trains continue between Clitheroe and Carlisle, plus engineers and timber trains from Carlisle and with one or two other flows, there's a lot to see. All the freight terminals and flows are featured here, including the run-round moves at Blea Moor - the most remote location in the country to do this - plus stunning aerial footage on a truly wonderful section of railway line.

Final Bitumen Trains: The Haverton Hill - Preston bitumen train ran for the last time in January 2025 and then in two rakes, the ICA wagons were taken away for storage. Hauled by 56049 and 56113 respectively, trains along the 180-year old Preston docks branch and that 1 in 29 gradient ran for the final time. Both trains are featured here with the final wagon move all the way to Easttriggs MOD base in Scotland.

Penmaenmawr Ballast: On 3rd March 2025, 37405 deputised for the usual Class 70, hauling a rake of 22 JNA wagons from Longport to Penmaenmawr Quarry. Later on, 70803 arrived light to haul the loaded train back. Full coverage of the day, with 37405 shunting and loading the train.

Doncaster & Knottingley: A day trip from April 2025 looking at various freight flows with containers at Mexborough, biomass a Haywood Junction and the Doncaster North Chord and 69004 with the sand train at Kirk Sandall followed by engineers, oil, steel and more biomass trains at Knottingley.

Plus: Sutton Park freight variety and 37s hauling JHA hoppers for scrap.

- All sections are introduced with full commentary and maps.
- Includes aerial footage.
- So much more than just train after train running past the camera!
- This is all brand new footage, filmed in 2024-25 - GUARANTEED.

2025 marks the 60th anniversary of the Class 37 and as of August, it's turning out to be a great year for these locos.

Still in production, confirmed so far is...

Far North Railtour: In March, 37401+37403 embarked on an epic three-day tour, taking 37/4s back to Thurso and Wick. Running as either a double header or top and tail, the locos arrived at Inverness on the Friday via a trip on the Strathspey Railway with 37674 and on the Saturday, made the full length journey all the way to the top. On the Sunday they headed from Inverness to Bo'ness via Aberdeen. Full coverage of the weekend includes the classic shots on the Forth and Tay bridges, arrival into the train sheds at both Thurso and Wick, some rare track, run round moves and lots of run pasts on these scenic Scottish railways.

Preservation: A look at BR Blue 37294 at the Embsay & Bolton Abbey Steam Railway
Plus: 37601 reverts back to 37501 and goes BSC Blue; 37403 works the Aberdeen Sleeper; 37057 & 37508 at the KWVR gala and 37264, 37418 & 37688 at the NYMR gala.

Riding the Colas Yorkshire RHTT 1

Cab Ride: York (Thrall Europa) to Hull (Anlaby Road Jn) via - Scarborough, Filey and Bridlington

One of the highlights of autumn 2024 was the return of 37/0s to RHTT operation with three Colas IM locos outbased at York, to work the Scarborough - Hull - Selby circuit. Running seven days a week, as headcode 3J51, and starting and finishing at the York Thrall Europa depot each day, the NE05 circuit takes a different route, depending on the day of the week, with a short or long day - the long day being almost 15 hours, taking in a fascinating criss-cross route via the Yorkshire coast.

37116, 37175 and 37254 were the trio involved and this is a cab ride filmed with 116+175 in the familiar top and tail mode, on a fine autumn day in October 2024.

Starting out from York, we head firstly to Scarborough and after a change of ends, run along the coast, passing Filey, Hunmanby, Bridlington and Beverley, through to Anlaby Junction, the Hull avoider. On a mixture of single and double track running, we pass many fine stations, signals, signal boxes and even though part of the route has been upgraded, there are still numerous semaphore signals and traditional level crossings.

The full 98-mile journey is shown and by the very nature of this train, it's not particularly fast or noisy, but it's a fascinating insight into what these 37s do, running over lines that have rarely - if ever - been filmed from the cab before. Maps, on-screen captions and minimal narration. A thrash cam in the back cab records the locos at work and ambient sounds.

Riding the ROG Loco Move #6

Bounds Green to Doncaster

DBC Class 67s are used as Thunderbirds on the ECML and on this occasion, the Doncaster based locos were due for a swap and maintenance. Starting from Bounds Green depot and filmed on a fine early spring day, the full 153-mile journey is shown here as we run along the Hertford Loop to Langley Junction and then a sprint along the ECML, with a few pathing stops, running into lesser-seen loops. Although routed mostly on the slow lines, the full 100mph maximum speed is reached.

Riding the Colas Oil Train 2

Preston Docks to Wakefield Kirkgate

In a surprise move, the longstanding Preston Bitumen Oil train ran for the last time in December 2024. Colas took over the operation in 2015 which duly saw their own Class 60s, then 70s, 56s and pairs of 56s working the train. This cab ride is sort of a farewell journey, filmed on 56090 during the final weeks of operation. This first part starts at Preston in the exchange sidings, up the short steep incline to the WCML, then Blackburn and up the gradient over the scenic Copy Pit line to a crew change at Wakefield Kirkgate.

SUNRISE SUNSET

Volume 15

A Day at Westbury

including Hawkeridge Junction
and Fairwood Junction

Sunrise Sunset UK spends a full day at a busy and popular location, recording a typical day of passenger and freight trains.

The counties of Wiltshire and Somerset are probably best known for Stonehenge, the Glastonbury music festival and large white horses, cut into the chalk hillsides. In railway terms, they are famous for white gold - limestone - cut from the Mendip Hills, and the well-known railheads at Merehead and Whitley quarries.

First introduced in 1986, the five original 59/0s (for Foster Yeoman) were supplemented by four Class 59/1s (for ARC Southern) in 1990 and six Class 59/2 (for National Power in 1994) and almost 40-years later, as of summer 2025, all but one of these locos can be found working stone trains in the Mendips, all now owned and operated by Freightliner.

Sunrise Sunset UK spends at day at Westbury, looking at the quarry stone traffic as well as other freight and passenger trains. The station itself is not an ideal location to spend a day as many trains take the avoider, but there are great vantage points either side at Hawkeridge Junction, Fairwood Junction and many overbridges on the main line towards Pewsey.

The days starts at first light with freight passing the station and DMUs heading into service from Westbury Yard. The lesser-used curve at Hawkeridge Junction now sees regular DCR Class 60 stone trains running between Tytherington and Quainton and on the mainline near Lavington, Class 800s pass at speed with more freight.

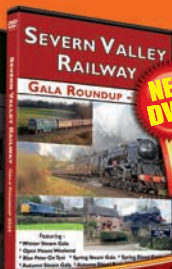

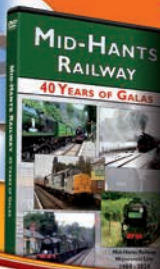

Fairwood Junction is a well known location where the Westbury avoider joins up with lines to/from the station and more freight and passenger trains were recorded. Next is stunning aerial footage of Westbury Yard, itself having been upgraded in recent years with various locos and wagons stabled. In the early evening, from the station, top-and-tail Colas 70s head off on an overnight engineers job.

Filed on 1st July 2025, this is what you would call a typical day of railway action from Westbury with all three sub-classes of 59 featured plus 60s, 66s and 70s and Class 158, 159, 165, 166, 800 and 802 units.

BONUS FOOTAGE: Freight and passenger trains at Westbury and Fairwood Junction from 2001, 2011 and 2016.

2024 marked the 30th anniversary of Train Crazy railway videos and DVDs. Starting out as a hobby in 1994, just about every type of locomotive and unit has featured, with more than 400 passenger, freight, cab ride and tram titles, released on VHS tape, DVD, Blu-ray and download.

Actual footage

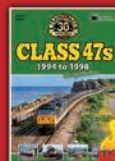

Here's the good bit... In the last few years, software to restore old grainy and wobbly film has become more accessible. Previously it was expensive, slow and not very good, but by 2024, huge advances were made. The old film used on these new compilation programmes is all being reworked, improved, cleaned up and upscaled. For the first time, all of the film shot in standard-definition (720 x 576 or less) can be upscaled and presented in top-quality high-definition (1920 x 1080).

No.11 in the series heads to the Southern and Isle of Wight with EMUs filmed over a decade, featuring the final years of the Class 411, 412, 421, 422 and 423 units. Working across a number of lines, various liveries and 8 & 12 car formations are shown plus the Class 483 sets on the IOW in the Dinosaur livery.

Presented in a no-nonsense format of on-screen captions with unit number, location and date, sit back and enjoy some top-quality action from 30-years ago - with much-improved picture quality and in HD for the very first time! This is far from a complete record of these trains during these years but this is what was filmed, now re-edited, re-worked and upscaled.

British Rail Motive Power Series - start collecting today!

British Rail Motive Power 1981-2004

Volume 15

Now into our seventh year of production, we've shifted the dates slightly so as to include the first four years of the 21st century. As previously, its all unused and unseen archive railway film, the series starts in 1981 and has now been extended to 2004 - all recorded with the original audio on tripod-mounted cameras.

Highlights of Volume 15 include:

North West: Warrington in 1982 with 31s and 40s; a visit to Reddish depot with various Class 76s; 56046 hauls a failed 45109 on a Newcastle - Liverpool service; 25s and 40s on freight at Man Vic.

50031 & 50049 Thunderbirds: Remarkable footage from July 2004 when two Class 50s were sent to Llandudno Junction to rescue the failed 47750!

Midlands: Footage from 1987 and 2000 with 45136 then 37401; BNS in 1982, 1985, 1986 and 2000 with 45057 arriving in from Bristol, 08742 stabilised between duties; 47702 in Virgin livery working for Cross Country.

WCML: Action from 1989 and 2003 with Class 20s on a coal train plus 87s and 90s.

East Anglia: Rural DMU action with manually operated level crossing gates at Dullingham, Tunstead, Sloley and Worstead.

North Wales: Action from 1982, 1983, 1996, 1999, 2000, 2003 and 2004.

Bescot Open Day Special to Ironbridge: On board footage from May 1990 with two pairs of 20s and 37101+37298.

So much more than just trains passing the camera!

Passenger Archive

A look at the loco-hauled passenger scene in the 1980s. It was a decade that produced plenty of traction variety, from the use of Class 20s on summer-dated holiday trains to the unique Class 89 on the ECML featuring Classes 20, 25, 26, 27, 31, 33, 37, 40, 45, 46, 47, 50, 56, 58, 73, 85, 86, 87, 89 and 91.

Railfreight Archive

A nostalgia-packed programme of rail freight scene in the 1980s. This was a decade of much variety in terms of traction, the types of wagons and the many commodities they carried. The Speedlink wagonload network was buoyant, vast tonnages of coal were being carried and marshalling yards were a hive of activity.

Portsmouth Direct

Portsmouth Harbour to London Waterloo

We travel in the cab of a class 444 Desiro EMU on one of the hourly services to the capital. We board at the unique Portsmouth Harbour, partially built over the sea. The first few stations follow in quick succession before we turn to the North after Havant. The line is rural now, hugging the contours of the South Downs via Petersfield and Haslemere. At Godalming our train runs over the original branch line into Guildford, an important interchange.

North Downs Line - Gatwick to Reading

We board a 3-car class 165 turbo DMU for a fast service that runs through all but 7 of the 22 stations en route. At first our train takes us along the four track main line to Redhill where our train has to reverse. We then run via Reigate, the end of the line for the electric services. A traditional signal box controls the level crossing and the next leg of our journey running below the Surrey Hills escarpment as far as Guildford.

Duration: 75 minutes Price: DVD £25.00 - Blu-ray £30.00 Code: VE123

4cities - Glasgow Queen Street to Dundee

We board a HST (High Speed Train) rebranded as InterCity. Our train will call at four cities: starting in Glasgow at Scotland's second busiest station Queen Street. We run non-stop to the second City, Stirling. Here we not only see the traditional Scottish station but also inside the main signal box (Stirling Middle). Another non-stop run at up to 100 miles an hour, takes us to the magnificent junction station at our third City, Perth.

Light Rail Systems No.8 WEST MIDLANDS METRO

Opening in May 1999 and known as Midland Metro, similar to other UK systems at the time, it incorporated city centre street running with a former disused railway line and it linked the cities of Wolverhampton and Birmingham via the towns of Bilston, West Bromwich and Wednesbury. Worked by a fleet of sixteen T69 trams, these were replaced by the current Urbos 3 vehicles in 2015 with the Urbos 100 type added from 2019.

After almost two decades of operation between Birmingham and Wolverhampton, extensions were added to Grand Central in 2016, Library in 2019, Edgbaston in 2022 and a branch to Wolverhampton station in 2023. Further huge expansions are planned which will double the size of the current system.

Filmed in summer 2025, this programme looks at what we know as the current one-line system, prior to further expansion, running from Wolverhampton Station to Edgbaston. The route is featured in detail with the non-electrified battery-operated sections, through the city of Birmingham, and parallel with national rail at Snow Hill, plus the most recently opened section to Wolverhampton Station with the original terminus at St. Georges, now disused.

Perhaps one of the more interesting aspects of this system is the footpath which runs alongside the tramway, along the old railway trackbed, from The Hawthorns to Black Lake - a distance of about 3 miles. Here, much of the former railway infrastructure can be seen as the trams pass through a more rural tree-lined section, at the maximum line speed of 70kph.

Most of the current fleet is shown systemwide in DC and battery mode, with moves to/from depot at Wednesbury Parkway.

Light Rail Systems No.1 SHEFFIELD A day on SUPERTRAM

Included here is footage of all six terminals plus some great moves in the city centre around Cathedral. There's footage from the triangular junction at Park Square and the other junctions at Hillsborough, Meadowhall South and Gleadless Townend plus moves to/from the depot at Nunnerly Square. From the serenity of Herdings Park and Crystal Peaks to the hustle and bustle of street running and passing through a major city, the Sheffield system is a great example of a successful and popular UK light rail system.

Light Rail Systems No.2 MANCHESTER In the City

This programme looks at the city centre operations. The original city crossing from 1992 was joined by a second (2CC) in 2017 and the intensive multi-route system is almost non-stop, with - at times - trams running literally seconds apart. Footage comes from the east end of Piccadilly with trams reversing and running to Ashton, then Victoria with its impressive junction, followed by action across both routes to St. Peters Square. The short section from St. Peters Square to Deansgate-Castlefield and Cornbrook sees the most intensive service, with multiple routes passing through here. At times, it's a none stop procession of vehicles - an absolute pleasure to watch and record - Light Rail at its very best. Footage comes from all three stops and in between.

Light Rail Systems No.6 MANCHESTER North and East Bury • Rochdale • Ashton

Our second programme on Manchester's Metrolink looks at three routes, serving the north and east of the city. The line to Bury was the first modern light rail line in Britain, rebuilt from the former heavy rail line, opening in 1992. As it was the first, much of the former railway infrastructure remains, with many stations retaining original buildings and fixtures. The line to Oldham and Rochdale was part of Metrolink's Phase 3a, opening in stages between 2012 and 2014. Although this route was also rebuilt from heavy rail, other than former track beds and over bridges, very little remains, with all stations completely rebuilt to the standard Metrolink design and/or relocated. Known as the East Manchester line, the full route to Ashton-under-Lyne was completed in 2013 and runs on a mixture of reserved track and on-street sections, plus a section of former heavy rail.

Special Nostalgia Edition!

Blackpool Tram DVD No.106 - Spring/Summer 2025

The Life & Times of:

5 622 636 644 680 702 717 761

On 6th December 2024, with just a month of the Illuminations to go, Blackpool Transport suspended their Heritage tram operation. The decision was very poorly received, drawing the attention of local MPs and making the national news. The full story is told here.

The life and times of eight trams: OMO 5 from a Railcoach and Permanent way car to OMO and into preservation; 622 and its famous Tigerrific advert, through the 1980s and 1990s into 2006 and more adverts, sold and used as a classroom, scrapped in January 2025; 636 and its quadruple roof boxes from the 1970s, Warburtons advert, Metro line 14 livery and a test tram; 644, probably most famous for crashing through the sea wall at Gynn Square, ran on the last day in 2011, sold to Farmer Parrs, scrapped January 2025; 680, towing a trailer and five advert liveries, running at Beamish and Heaton Park. Jatterly back in Blackpool; 702, a very ordinary Balloon car, ran in the EE75 parade and was the last Balloon from Fleetwood on the last night in 2009, now at Heaton Park; 717 and its 1930s restoration in 2008, now the flagship double decker of the Heritage fleet and 761, from Balloon 725, stored, rebuilt, the first Jubilee car in 1979, many advert liveries, ran on the last day in 2011, sold and now back in Blackpool.

Northern Lines: Leeds to Harrogate

Of the railway routes covered in this book, only the line from Leeds to York via Harrogate remains open. The section from Leeds to Harrogate is still very much a main line, hosting services to and from King's Cross, whilst the section from Harrogate to York is partially singled and features semaphore signals and manually operated level crossings. This section was also proposed for closure in the Beeching Report, but permission was not granted.

The Stockton & Darlington Railway is probably the best known railway line in the world. Whilst existing history books outline its historical significance, we delve further to explain where it ran initially. The prime objective was moving coal to the River Tees at Stockton from the pits west of Shildon. The establishing of Shildon as the first railway town cannot be underestimated.

Eastern Main Lines: Alnmouth to Berwick

In 1850 the completion of the Royal Border Bridge, linking the two banks of the River Tweed, was the final piece of the jigsaw that saw the East Coast Main Line link London with Edinburgh. The line covers several intermediate stations that were closed during the 1950s. The Seahouses and Tweed Dock branches provide interesting studies of lines serving East Coast harbours.

Buses, Trams and Trolleybuses - A Photographic Review

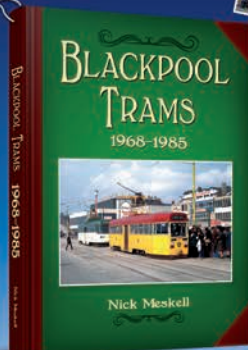

A review of London Transport's Central buses, trams and trolleybuses within Central London covering the period from the late 1940s until 1970 with a few photographs of traditional buses in the early 1970s also included. Featured in an approximate chronological order are the pre-war and utility types, loaned Bristol, the RT family, and the abandonment of the tramway system.

This second volume of a three book series, contains a collection of evocative and beautifully restored images of Blackpool's trams from the years 1968 to 1985.

Limited to 1,000 copies, each book is certified, numbered and personally signed by the author. Printed on coated super-glossy thick art paper, hardback and thread sewn with 280 pages and just short of 500 images - most of which are previously unseen and previously unpublished.

Working its way through 17-years, the book starts with a class-by-class look at the trams. Presented in numerical order from the 1968 renumbering, we start with the Boat cars and surviving Railcoaches; then the Brush cars, Coronation cars and Twin cars. All 27 Balloons are next, followed by the Illuminated cars and Works cars. By 1968 the tramway had moved on from the route closures of early-1960s and driver-only operation was on the agenda with the 638 experiment in 1969, thirteen rebuilt Railcoaches from 1972; Jubilee car 761 in 1979 and the brand new Centenary car 641 of 1984. Other significant tram events from this period which have a dedicated chapter.
