

Spring Flowers in Watercolour

Next Step up from Beginners

With
Lyn Armstrong

After learning all the basic techniques it is now time to take it a step further and put all of your new skills into a painting.

Spring is here so let us paint some of the welcoming bursts of colour that spring flowers give us.

. Flowers give us a chance to use some lovely colours, which will improve your colour mixing, also learning about hard and soft edges and composition whilst the backgrounds will give you a chance to try some wet in wet washes again. The morning will be spent painting some small sketches as a step towards a bigger painting in the afternoon. As always there will be lots of demonstration and step by step guidance.

This workshop will be suitable for improvers.

Please bring along your own watercolour materials to include:

- Good quality paper of at least 140lb, plus spare for practise and testing.
- Watercolour paints.
- Selection of brushes
- Pencils, masking tape and a rubber.
- Rag or kitchen roll
