A WORD FROM BRIAN

BUCKINGHAM COVERS,
SPECIALIST COVER EXPERT

Dear Collector,

Drum roll, welcome to the first Cover Lover of 2024, when we can open the curtains (see below) and let you know what is coming up and even get the chance to show you the January issue featuring the Spice Girls, there are people of a certain age in the office very excited about this one!

We have already spent quite a long time planning the covers for this year and can't wait to show you what is coming up.

One thing we can say, at this point, is that we have made a change to our signed covers. From this first issue all our main signed covers will just have a single stamp on them. Dealing with agents and getting signatures has become harder and harder. This will save us all a massive amount on the value of stamps and help keep the final cost to you down, the added bonus is it will give the signers much more space too.

This year you will also notice some changes to Cover Lover, regular customer will know that for the second half of 2023 we did a lot of magazines, for 2024 we

"Drum roll, welcome to the first Cover Lover of 2024"

are trying to be more sensible, cutting back on the number of magazines and number of pages, but not the quality of the stock going into them. We still think we have one of the greatest stocks in the world and it will be great to try and show, and sell you, some of it this year!

At the time of writing there is no news of signatures for the Spice Girls issue, plus we have a couple of very special items we could not fit in, so to hear about these first, either check our website or even better sign up for our 'Hear It First' emails.

So I think that just leaves us to say that we hope you had a very good Christmas and to wish you all a Happy New Year.

Happy Collecting

Brian Austin

STEAM SPECIAL CARRIED

This Benham 1994 Age of Steam North British Railways cover was carried in December 1993 on a steam special between Edinburgh and Perth and return going over the Forth Bridge twice, nice illustration of the Elizabethan by Terence Cuneo.

FC4142ZHC £25

THE MALLARD

While we are at this seems like a good time to once again feature Cuneo's illustration of the Mallard on the 1988 Transport National Railway Museum Mallard cover.

SPALDING SLOGAN

I think this needs to be added to your 'Needs to be in your collection' list. We always say condition is important with slogans, and I don't think you will find better than this 1979 Flowers, Spalding Flower Parade special slogan. A clean Post Office cover with the smallest of label addresses.

Flexi Pay £50 per month over 2 months

LEYLAND LION

I do like a home-made cover, this one has both the 1982 Technology stamps to mark the restoration of the Ribble Leyland Lion in Preston. First, I should say It is not first day, then I will also say it is covered in signatures, of which one I can identify and inside are a number of newspaper clippings and even a commemorative bus ticket. Finally, I should say that this is number one in a limited edition of two. This will give you hours of research.

FC4036Z £35

WISHART'S WAR

Yes we are back to the wartime covers of John Wishart, of whom little is known. This one is dated 1st September 1939, the day Germany Invades Poland, registered with all four King Edward VIII stamps and Salford CDS.

TCS522 £75

CHURCHILL CDS

All cover collectors know that this year marks the 150th Anniversary of the Birth of Sir Winston Churchill, so I felt it was time to offer you one very nice cover. From the 1965 Memorial issue (phosphor stamps) a clean Connoisseur cover with a neat Churchill Oxford CDS postmark.

FC363 £125

Flexi Pay £25 per month over 5 months

DESIGNER SIGNED

I must confess that I always thought these stamp designs were taken direct from stained glass windows, but they were in fact 'derived' from Windows at Canterbury Cathedral by designers Edward Hughes, Graham Clarke and Collis Clements. This is the cover signed by all three.

SGC217 £50

FC877P £20

While I am at it we also have this unusual First Day postcard featuring the St Thomas Beckett window in the Cathedral with Canterbury special postmark and posted at the Cathedral cachet.

THE SALVATION ARMY

If we ever get enough in stock we will do a page of Salvation Army covers, this one for the 1993 Art issue, Salvation Army Conference Centre Sunbury Court official cover, marks the 50th Anniversary Open Day.

A Weekend In London

by Craig Buggins

During a recent weekend in London, I took in a few of the capital's sites, visiting Apsley House, The Churchill War Rooms & HMS Belfast. On Hyde Park Corner stands Apsley House, the London townhouse of the Duke of Wellington. Built in the 1770s it came into the 1st Duke's possession in 1817 and now houses the Wellington collection. The collection features numerous artefacts from the Battle of Waterloo including weapons, uniforms and captured French flags; as well as gifts given to Wellington from monarchs and governments across Europe for his part in Napoleon's defeat.

Opposite the house stands the Wellington Arch, completed in 1830 as part of plans to upgrade Hyde Park to match the splendour of other European cities. Designed as a 'triumphal arch' by renowned 19th century architect Decimus Burton, the top of the arch originally had a large sculpture of Wellington on horseback, but this was replaced by the current bronze statue of the Goddess of Victory in 1912.

The Cabinet War Rooms were located beneath the Treasury building in Whitehall, with construction beginning in 1938 & becoming fully operational on 27th August 1939, less than a week before Britain declared war. In 1984 they were reopened by the Imperial War Museum giving the public access to both the War Rooms and a dedicated museum to Churchill's life. What amazed me most about the War Rooms was the walls of the main situation room that were covered in maps of the world. The guide explained that these are still the original maps that were there when the rooms closed after the end of the war, and that if you look closely you can see small pin pricks across them which were made by markers tracking positions of ships and convoys.

FC1058 £10

1974 Churchill, House of Commons postmark.

In the Churchill Museum there were items from all parts of his life, from childhood school reports through to the Union Jack which was draped over his coffin during the procession through London. One of the most interesting items to me on show was a letter written by King George VI to Churchill just days before D-Day, pleading with Churchill to change his mind that he should be aboard one of the British Ships off Normandy during the invasion. The King's wise words that morale would have taken quite a hit had his ship been sunk must have had the desired effect!

BC410C £25

2010 Britain Alone, Churchill Society postmark.

My final visit was to HMS Belfast. The World War Two Cruiser was launched in 1938 and saw action early in the war as part of the British blockade of Germany. She was struck by a mine at the end of 1939 and spent two years undergoing major repairs. After this she returned to action escorting Arctic Convoys during 1943 and played an important role at the Battle of North Cape, assisting in the destruction of the Scharnhorst. In 1944 she operated during D-Day as a support ship before being moved to the Pacific Theatre. It's certainly an impressive ship to walk around, especially the engine room where there are so many switches, valves and buttons, my head hurt just thinking about how they managed to operate the ship.

The trip was completed with the classic tourist photo whilst sitting on the Captain's Chair & then a final visit to the ship's Post Office, set up aboard as it would have been during the war which as a stamp dealer was of course the highlight!

The 1840 Mulready was ridiculed by contemporaries for its overly elaborate design and many caricature envelopes were produced by publishers including Fores', Spooner, Southgate, and Menzies. Their ridicule proved so effective that it was decided to stop producing the Mulready just two months after its release.

Since the time of Queen Victoria major royal events have been marked by cover collectors. At Buckingham covers we continued this tradition with our King Charles III collection.

Begun in the autumn of 2022, we have just completed the collection with the cover on the 14th November 2023 marking his 75th Birthday.

The 26 covers are housed in a special embossed album with a special numbered frontice piece, listing all the covers included.

We think this has built into a fantastic record of his first year as King, with covers included to mark His Majesty meeting his first Prime Minister, the first State visit and first opening of Parliament.

Also included are exclusive covers to mark his first commemorative stamps, the British Coronation issue and a special coin cover.

Royalty

Queen Victoria

Queen Victoria signed mourning cover as 'The Queen'. Addressed to Sir Edward Malet at the British Embassy in Berlin who was her ambassador to the German Empire. British royalty autographs remain very popular and continue to generate much interest when offered for sale to both collectors and investors.

Queen Victoria's 63 years and seven months reign is the second longest of any British monarch. Victoria ascended to the throne aged 18 and married Prince Albert of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha in 1840 with whom she had nine children which married into royal families across the continent, earning her the title, 'the grandmother of Europe'. Her largely popular reign witnessed huge industrial, political, and cultural changes, which ensured her status as a national icon.

King Edward VII

King Edward VII signed document dated 11th May 1901 appointing Colonel Frederick Francis Johnson as an Additional Member of the Military Division of the Third Class & a Companion of the Order of the Bath. The King has hand signed the top of the document which is in excellent condition & features the seal of the The Most Honorable Order of the Bath.

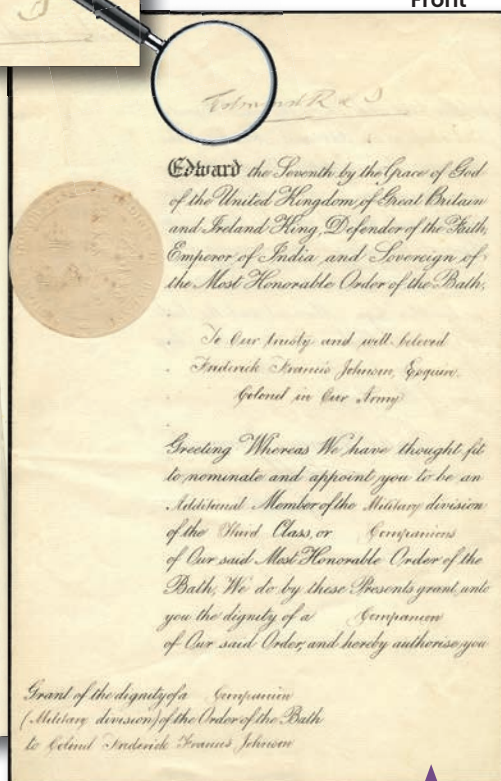

King Edward VII was King of the United Kingdom, the British Dominions, and Emperor of India. Isolated from any political influence during Victoria's reign due to their often troubled relationship, he instead gained a reputation for embodying the fashionable elite. However, during his reign he played an active part in the modernisation of the British Fleet and the reform of the Army; with the Edwardian era witnessing significant changes in technology, culture, and the broader role of society.

King Edward VIII signed document dated 3rd June 1918 in his capacity as Grand Master of the Order of the British Empire appointing Charles Goddard Doctor of Medicine Major in our Royal Army Medical Corps Territorial Force. At this time Edward was the Prince of Wales & so the document also has a George V facsimile autograph. Edward VIII was King of the United Kingdom, the Dominions of the British Empire, and Emperor of India. With the outbreak of the First World War he joined the Grenadier Guards in June 1914, and received the Military Cross in 1916. During his reign he quickly alarmed the establishment with his disregard of protocol and conventions; with his proposal to American divorcee Wallis Simpson causing a constitutional crisis. Edward abdicated in order to proceed with the marriage and was entitled as the Duke of Windsor, his reign lasted only 326 days.

King George V

King George V signed document dated 19th April 1919 awarding Edmund Clerihew Bentley the licence to wear the Cross of Chevalier of the Belgium Order of the Crown. An excellent condition item embossed with the Royal Seal & countersigned by the then Home Secretary Edward Shortt. George V was King of the United Kingdom, the British Dominions and Emperor of India. His reign coincided with a volatile political landscape with the rise of both communism and fascism; and increasing independence movements in both Ireland and India. During the destruction of the First World War, his Royal House also became a casualty with the renaming in 1917 to the House of Windsor. The changing political tide saw him in 1924 appoint the first Labour government, and in 1931 the dominions of the Empire were reorganised as independent states within the Commonwealth of Nations.

CELEBRATING 100 YEARS OF FLYING SCOTSMAN

To mark the centenary of this icon train we worked with the National Railway Museum to produce this collection of 12 carried covers.

During 2023 there were twelve official journeys and we produced an official cover for each. Only 100 of these special Centenary collections were produced, soon after the issue it was a complete sell out, but a trade customer decided not to take four of the ones we can offer these here.

Officially licensed Flying Scotsman Centenary Programme Centenary Collection

At Buckingham Covers we celebrate the 100th Birthday of this iconic locomotive with a collection of 12 very special carried covers.

Carried on the Flying Scotsman as we follow this living steam legend on its centenary trip around the United Kingdom during summer 2023.

Each cover has a special postmark and a different illustration and special label with Flying Scotsman carried cachet to commemorate this historic event in railway history.

IN OUR OPINION THE BEST FIRST DAY COVER ALBUM ON THE MARKET!

I looked at the available luxury albums and decided that the Safe 800 series was the best for our Buckingham Covers. The 14 ring mechanism is quality nickel-plated easy to use and only available from Safe. The album lies perfectly flat and you can remove pages or covers easily. It has two heavy-duty sheet lifters. The luxury binder is padded and the matching slip-case again looks quality as indeed it is. The leaves are the best available and your first day covers look superb. Yes, they sound expensive with only 11 leaves, but we are selling them well below the proper price so they are a bargain.

We can offer this great album, containing 15 polypropylene* leaves that will take 60 FDC.

It fits our covers perfectly and they look great in it!
Available in Red and Dark Blue and now in Brown with 'Railway Cover Album' blocked onto the spine, specifically for your rail collection.

*Polypropylene is a clear material which according to the experts is totally safe. Some album leaves are dangerous as they suck out ink from the covers. PVC in particular can be lethal to your covers and if you have old PVC pages in albums the leaves should be replaced.
